By accessing our website [www.thecryptolaunchpad.com] and using our services, you acknowledge and agree to the terms outlined in this disclaimer.

1. Nature of Our Services

The Crypto Launchpad is a technology and marketing service provider specializing in:

- Blockchain Development – Building smart contracts, tokens, and blockchain-based applications.
- Crypto Software Solutions – Developing cryptocurrency-related platforms, including exchanges, wallets, and DeFi solutions.
- App & Web Development – Creating digital applications for businesses and projects.
- Marketing & Branding – Assisting clients with digital marketing strategies and project branding.

We provide these services as a third-party software and marketing provider and do not have any direct control over how clients use the software we develop.

2. No Endorsement or Promotion

- We DO NOT promote, endorse, or guarantee the legitimacy of any cryptocurrency, blockchain project, or token created using our services.
- Any software, token, or project developed by our team remains the sole responsibility of the client who requested the development.
- We DO NOT provide financial, investment, or legal advice regarding any crypto project.

3. No Responsibility for Client Actions

- Our company only provides technology and marketing solutions; we are NOT responsible for how our clients use the software we develop.
- We DO NOT manage or control any funds, tokens, or assets of any project.
- We DO NOT hold, distribute, or have any involvement in the financial operations of any client's project.
- If a client misuses a product developed by us for fraudulent, misleading, or illegal activities, we CANNOT be held liable for their actions.

4. No Liability for Financial Losses

- We DO NOT provide investment opportunities, financial services, or trading platforms.
- Any investments or transactions made by users in projects built using our technology are at their own risk.
- We ARE NOT responsible for any financial losses, investment failures, or security breaches in any crypto project.
- Users, investors, and customers must conduct their own research (DYOR) before participating in any crypto-related projects.

5. Compliance with Laws & Regulations

- The Crypto Launchpad and The Blockjet Technologies LLC operate strictly as a software development and marketing company in compliance with UAE laws.
- We do not engage in money laundering, fraud, or any illegal activities.
- If required by authorities, we may cooperate with legal investigations by providing necessary documentation proving our role as a technology service provider.

6. Third-Party Links & Content

- Our website may contain links to third-party projects, platforms, or services. We DO NOT control or take responsibility for their actions, services, or claims.
- Any interactions with third-party projects are at your own discretion and risk.

7. Legal Protection & Indemnification

- By using our services, you agree to indemnify and hold harmless The Crypto Launchpad, The Blockjet Technologies LLC, its employees, directors, and affiliates from any claims, losses, or damages arising from:
  - The misuse of software developed by us.
  - Financial losses from any crypto project.
  - Legal actions taken against projects created using our technology.
